The Geneology of Neofit Hilendarski Bozveli Dedicated to his 220 Anniversary of His Birthday

(Summary)

The author of this article, descendent of the Bozveli family, carefully retraces and analyzes all current researches on the subject. Moreover he gives new details resulted from interviews with relatives and information from regional museums and archives. The research is conformable to the current historical epoch, which contributes to its cognitional character. A geneological diagram is applied, so it is easy to define the relations between the relatives, the lateral branch of the family and the direct.
