Chronological Apportion of the Current Byzantine Silver Coins

(Summary)

This article shows a chart that indicates the approximate chronological apportion of the silver coins that in the present. It is assumed that the quantity of the coins in different museums and private collections is in inverse proportion to the price of a coin of that type. It is suggested two ways of evaluation of the quantity depending on the price. The prices are taken from the catalogue “The Silver of Byzantium” assembled by Hr. Haritonov. The data is processed and framed using Excel.
