ACADEMICIAN MITO ISUSOV AND THE SCHOOL FOR HISTORIANS IN PRIMORSKO 1978–1999

(Summary)

Based mainly on personal memories, the author presents the so called School of Young Historians in Primorsko, annually conducted from 1978 till 1999, and the role of M. Isusov in it. All major units of scientific and historical character in the country regularly sent representatives in Primorsko. In this sense, the School was (all-) national. Regularly there were also foreigners – i. e. it was international. It was also interdisciplinary; all the historical disciplines were presented. The school stood out with its free spirit and attracted famous and promising names (such as Zhelyo Zhelev and Georgi Parvanov). It is not only the most durable forum for Bulgarian history (in 22 years the school was held 21 times) – but also the most open minded one.
