PROSOPOGRAPHIC NOTES FOR ONE OF THE DAUGHTERS OF BULGARIAN TSAR GEORGI I TERTER (1280–1292)

(Summary)

This prosopographic research traces the life of a princess unknown by name (Na. Terter), who was one of Georgi I Terter's daughters. In 1279 her father remarried and sent her, her mother and her brother Theodore Svetoslav to the Byzantine Empire in exile. Later Na. Terter returned to Bulgaria, but before long she left her homeland again this time to enter the harem of Chaka, the son of the Tatar Khan Nogay. After the death of her husband – killed on the orders of the Bulgarian Tsar Theodore Svetoslav the princess was offered in marriage to the Catalan leader Bernat de Rokafort. After 1306 we lose track of her.
