

Peter Stoyanovich

THE TORPEDO EMPIRE

(Summary)

The article discusses the history and development of the torpedo launchers that gained the greatest renown in the key port of Austro-Hungary Fiume (Rijeka). The main producers of this armament are studied, with a major focus on the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The research is set in a rich historical context.