THE SPIRITUAL RETURN OF PROF. MARIN DRINOV IN BULGARIA

(Summary)

Prof. Marin Drinov died in Kharkov in February 1906. As a token of respect for his services as a scholar and public figure, the Bulgarian government decided that his mortal remains should be transferred to and buried in Bulgaria. Professor Ivan D. Shishmanov, Minister of Education, was charged with this task. He in turn instructed Prof. Vasil Zlatarski and Pencho Slaveikov to arrange the transfer of the bones of the great scientist and public figure. For various reasons, this was done in 1908.
